

A group of eleven people, including officials and representatives, standing behind a long conference table in a formal meeting room. They are all wearing face masks. The room features a large illuminated display on the table and a portrait on the wall.

